

Professor of Civic Media & Journalism and Special Advisor to the Provost, Paul Mihailidis

Save the Date: Co-Writing and Coffee!

Starting Monday, October 21st, the Research HUB at Emerson College will be offering space and time for co-writing with peers, on Mondays & Thursdays on the 6th Floor of the Walker Building in the Phi Alpha Tau Room (RM #639).

Enjoy focused writing time with peers, get writing support and motivation, and learn about publishing your work to the world on Digital Commons. These sessions provide an opportunity to share our projects, enjoy refreshments, and focus on writing in a productive, creative environment.

Please share with your communities and we hope to see you there!

Learn More About the Research HUB

Some Questions for You

Have You Read the Latest?

Read the newest blog post from ITG at the button below.

Please Don't Make 'Fake Headers'

Are You Interested in Boston History?

The greater Boston area is a treasure trove of historical archives! Here's a list of Archival Repositories in Boston that you can explore!

Archives & Primary Sources LibGuide

Do You Have a Voting Plan?

Election day is only 32 days away! Do you know where and how you're going to vote?

Make a plan by taking our survey; we'll send you customized information about voting in Boston or your home state.

You can also visit our website to look up your state's info and see our schedule of events including live help with voter information, wellness events, and civic engagement opportunities on campus.

Voting LibGuide

Customized Voting Info Survey

Mid-Semester Support from OAA

Mid-semester Grading & Assessment: Drop-in Hours!

In person: Tuesday, October 15 & Wednesday, October 16, Walker 402A, 10am-3pm

On Zoom: Thursday, October 17 & Friday, October 18

Join OAA's drop-in hours for an informal conversation about mid-semester feedback: we will be available to share resources and tips on effective, efficient feedback for mid-semester assignments, collecting feedback from your students on the assignments they've completed so far, their progress towards meeting your class learning outcomes, and their learning goals for the remainder of the semester!

Join us from 10 AM to 3 PM:

In person, on Tuesday, 10/15 & Wednesday, 10/16, at Walker 402A
Or via Zoom, Thursday, 10/17 & Friday, 10/18

Zoom Link for 10/17

Zoom Link for 10/18

tips from your librarians

some top tips from us to you

Google Like a Librarian

When researching, you may find outdated or unavailable materials. School of the Arts Librarian, Cate Schneiderman, suggests using a Google Scholar hack to find more recent articles, watch the video tutorial below to learn Cate's Google Scholar hack!

Google Scholar Reverse Engineering Tutorial

A Librarian's Favorite Resource

Assistant Director of Collections and Systems, Elena O'Malley, says, "I read a memoir for one of Richard Hoffman's classes that opened with the author watching a story on the news when she was young. I was able to pull up the story that she watched in Vanderbilt Television News Archive and show it to my class. I've had a soft spot for it ever since!"

Vanderbilt Television News Archive

Thanks for Reading!

Questions? Please contact: reference@emerson.edu and we will direct your inquiries.

Emerson College Library | 120 Boylston Street | Boston, MA 02116 US

Unsubscribe | Update Profile | Constant Contact Data Notice

Try email marketing for free today!